

FOOD

FUEL

(choose one)

World food prices are soaring due to global warming, high oil prices and increased demand in our industrial agricultural model. And as we rush toward a biofuels "energy fix," millions starve worldwide while rising prices squeeze poor and middle-class families in America. Now we must decide: Are we going to feed people or our cars, trucks and SUVs?